

FLETCHER, N.C. — The North Carolina Mountain State Fair comes alive at the Western North Carolina Agricultural Center from September 6 to 15, 2019. The Mountain State Fair celebrates the heritage of the Blue Ridge Mountains, including agriculture, music, crafts, art, food, entertainment, display of livestock, and competitions.

The focal point of the Fair is the Carnival Midway, featuring over 40 rides and numerous games for all ages. The many competitions are staples of the Fair, featuring North Carolina's best in livestock, creative arts, farm products, and school projects. Old timey demonstrations will be given, ranging from molasses making, blacksmithing, pottery, and needlework to basket weaving. Agriculture runs deep at the Fair during the 10-day run, with more than 4,000 animals, including dairy and beef cattle, sheep, pigs, goats, chickens, rabbits, and llamas. Music fills the air at the Fair with sounds of Appalachia as bands perform bluegrass music as clogging teams show off their fancy footwork. The entertainment lineup includes music, acrobatics, magic shows, and animal acts just to name a few. The Mountain State Fair is the best source for family entertainment.

For a schedule of events, hours or price of admission go online to wncagcenter.org or call 828.687.1414.

For lodging or area information call the Visitor Center at 828.693.9708, 800.828.4244 or online to visithendersonvillenc.org.

###

CONTACT:

Karen Baker
kbaker@visithendersonvillenc.org

<https://media.visitnc.com/Mountain-State-Fair>Returns-to-Fletcher>